THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

Speaker Blaine Repeats His Charge of Democratic Antagonism Toward the "Equal Rights" Sections.
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 1, 1874.
Speaker Blaine addressed a large audience of republicans at the City Hall last night, urging the claims of the republican party on the ground that the democrats do not heartily support the constitutional amendments.

Mr. Blaine having been reported as saying in a speech at Worcester that "there has never been in any convention of the democratic party—national, state, county or district—a single declaration agreeing to abide by that (fourteenth) amendment," the Springfield Republican of yesterday called his attention to the fact that the last Democratic National Convention, by a vote of 62 to 32, adopted a platform containing this pledge:

We pledge ourselves to maintain the Union of these States emancipated and enfranchised and to oppose any attempt to deprive the colored people of their rights, and to support the amendments to the Constitution.

Mr. Blaine said with reference to this: "I have said that no democratic convention that was true exponent of the party and speaking its spirit was, by a single declaration, agreed to stand by the fourteenth amendment. I am reminded by the Springfield Republican that the Baltimore Convention of 1872 did so. I say that that Convention was not an exponent of the democratic party at all. They agreed to take Mr. Greeley, the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention, on his own confession of the fact that he was committed to the support of that amendment and they took him as a man takes a farm, with the encumbrances. He was disastrously defeated, and the moment the Greeley restraint was taken off they were back to their old principles. I repeat that no democratic convention, pure and simple has expressed an intention to abide by these amendments."

BOSTON AND THE CENTENNIAL.

Little, of Philadelphia, were the guests of the Commercial Club of Boston on Saturday evening. The Hon. Alexander H. Rice, of Massachusetts, from the chair, commended the Centennial celebration. Governor Bigler, Mr. Fraley, Mr. Welsh and Mr. Thomas Webster, with great clearness and ability, explained the features of the international exhibition and the progress that had been made in preparation for it. They were followed by several eminent Boston merchants, who severally urged the active co-operation of New England. Much enthusiasm was manifested and resolutions were unanimously adopted, as follows:

Resolved, That we, as citizens of Boston, do heartily endorse the object of the Centennial Exhibition.
Resolved, That a general appeal be made to our fellow citizens to aid by their subscriptions to the extent of their ability, the Centennial Board of Finance in carrying out in a proper manner the programme which has been so nobly inaugurated.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1, 1874.
Two Millions of Gold To Be Sold in November.

The Secretary of the Treasury has directed the Assistant Treasurer at New York to sell $2,000,000 of gold on each Thursday during the month of November. The aggregate amount of sales will be $20,000,000.

Progress of the Adjudication of the Southern Claims.

The Commissioners of Southern Claims are now engaged taking testimony. The entire number of claims presented to the Commissioners is over 20,000, only 5,504 of which have been adjudicated.

A year ago the aggregate amount of the claims so passed upon was $10,234,384, leaving to be disposed of, 17,000 claims amounting to $50,000,000. Several millions of dollars have been appropriated and paid in satisfaction of the over 5,000 claims above referred to, and reported to Congress by the Commissioners. The number to be reported to Congress next winter will not be so large as heretofore.

Many of the claimants placed their respective claims at very high figures, such as the facts presented did not justify, and therefore there was an extensive reduction by the Commissioners. As instances, one man claimed $15,000 and was cut down to $6,800, and another who claimed $5,000 received only $100. These claims, it will be recalled, arise from seizures and destruction of property owned by Union men in the Southern States. The question of loyalty is an essential element in their allowance. The time for presenting claims expired on the 3d of March, 1873. A bill is pending in Congress to extend the time for this purpose, many persons not having heard of the limit.

Department Clerks Going Home to Vote.

It is estimated that about 600 persons temporarily resident in Washington, and principally employed in government departments, will on Tuesday vote in the respective States of which they are citizens. A number left here several days ago, and others are now following. The interest in the result of the election is on the increase.

The Reduction of the Army.

The War Department, in accordance with the law, is reducing the personnel of the army to 25,000 men, there being now about 27,000 in service. The reduction will leave one officer—commissioned and non-commissioned—to every eleven men, the law having made no provision for the reduction of officers. According to an order of the War Department non-commissioned officers and meritorious privates may re-enlist at the posts where they may be stationed. This saves the expense of transportation.

Report of Chief of Engineers Humphreys—Estimates for the Next Fiscal Year.

The report of General Humphreys, chief of the corps of army engineers, has been completed. It is elaborate, and minutely details the condition of the works under his charge and gives estimates of the amount necessary to carry them out now in progress. It is with Congress, however, to determine how far the works shall be extended during the next fiscal year. The estimates show no certainty of the amounts which will be appropriated, as Congress appropriated less than $2,000,000 for fortifications for the fiscal year ending with June last, the estimates being $3,000,000; and for improvement of rivers and harbors for the same period $5,000,000, the estimates being $15,000,000. An appropriation of $400,000 was asked for continuing the improvement and removing obstructions in the East River and Hell Gate, New York, but the amount voted was $225,000. The Chief of Engineers will repeat his recommendation regarding all the work alluded to in his former report.

AMUSEMENTS.

Frederick Macabace at Steiny Hall.

The entertainment given by Mr. Frederick Macabace at Steiny Hall grows in popularity and is exceedingly enjoyable. Taken as a whole it is by far the best performance of the kind that we remember to have seen in the city. Mr. Macabace possesses most astonishing powers of ventriloquism, united with a facility for changing his voice which renders those powers all the more amusing and effective. As an Irishman or a Frenchman, a Lancashireman or a Cockney, or a mingling young lady or a burly German, he is equally perfect, and his voice passes from the one character to the other without an apparent effort. To close the exercises and induce the hearer almost to persuade himself that the persons represented must actually be present and talking in their natural tones. This, however, is merely the groundwork on which Mr. Macabace's entertainment is based. The performance itself throughout is easy, graceful and in good taste. There is nothing of the broad and vulgar kind which is so often met with in the London street ballad singer with his chronic bark and his voice coupled with gin, or the rough span country lad, he never seems to lose the refinement which is a marked characteristic of his performance. Mr. Macabace as a pianist is almost brilliant, and his style is dashing and expressive. This is great aid to his voice, which is tolerably good, and his songs call forth much applause. There is an abandon and dash in all that he does which carry the audience with him, and his greatly enhanced pleasure derived from the entertainment. In fact, Mr. Macabace is a thoroughly finished actor and a very accomplished man, and his performance is more than usually entertaining.

Sacred Concert in Brooklyn.

There will be, next Sunday evening, at the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, a grand sacred concert for the benefit of St. Mary's Church of the Immaculate Conception, of which Rev. Father McDonald is pastor. Considerable attractions are promised, and the object of the fair—the relief from pressing heavy burdens on the parish—needs no word of special commendation and is sure to meet with generous sympathy. Miss Violetta Corville, an American prima donna, will lend her services. Mr. S. Gilmore, of London, will lead the Twenty-second Regiment Band, which is a prominent feature in the entertainment.

The cast of "Mignon," which will be presented at the Academy on Wednesday, will be as follows:—Mignon, Miss Albani; Filina, Miss Helton; Wilhelm Meister, Signor Debasini; Fred, Signor Lotario; Signor Fiorini.

Ambrose Tarn is writing a new opera, to be called "Francesca di Rimini," and his ballet of "Cupid and Psyche" is to be turned into a grand opera, with Cupid as tenor. Fancy Capoul and Campanini in tights and wings, like flying acrobats!

Downing's entire Ninth Regiment Band have volunteered to head the procession of Arcadian torchbearers on the night of the Charlotte Cushman farewell coronation. The Messrs. Edge have gratuitously contributed fireworks for the occasion.

The first symphony concert of Theodore Thomas takes place at Steiny Hall on Saturday next, and will introduce old favorites again to the New York public such as the "Child Harold" symphony of Berlioz and the "Heroic Symphony" of Beethoven, Mr. Boschwitz, a pianist, unknown to fame, will play Grieg's new concerto.

To satisfy the overwhelming demand for places in Booth's Theatre to see Miss Charlotte Cushman as Meg Merrilies, an extra matinee has been decided upon by Jarrett & Palmer. It will be given on Thursday of next week. For the regular Saturday matinee "Macbeth" will be given for the last time, when Mr. Vandenhof makes his last appearance.

The Grand Opera House has finally been leased, and to the Kraly Brothers, who will make it a grand spectacular theatre. They have purchased from Jarrett & Palmer, for the sum of $10,000, the right of the exclusive use of "The Black Crook" in New York, and that popular spectacle will give their initial attraction. The house is now undergoing complete renovation preparatory to an early opening.

The steamship Adriatic took out as a passenger Miss Marie Von Elmer, a young lady of eighteen years, who sailed for Europe to be placed under the best instructors for the completion of her musical studies. She possesses an unusually fine soprano voice, which she has been taught to use in the very best manner. We hope she may succeed in an undertaking which, for all its trials, occasionally results in a world-wide triumph.

The symmetrical and even beauty of the present performance of "The Romance of a Poor Young Man," at Wallace's, we can heartily commend to all lovers of the higher order of theatrical representations. From the leading characters down to the smallest rôle in the play the acting is perfect throughout. Little Miss Leonard as the peasant child is marvellously good. Messrs. Montague, John Gilbert and all the ladies are adding to their laurels every night.

The first entertainment of the season of the Brooklyn Teachers' Association was given on Friday, in the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association. Its programme composed several solos by Miss Emma O. Thursty, tenor solos by Mr. William S. Leggett, part songs by the Trinity Club, and readings by Mr. William M. Jelliffe. The performances were all admirable, but Miss Thursty's rendering of Ardit's "Inconsistency" and Mr. Jelliffe's reading of "Charlie Macree" deserve special praise.

"We need scarcely say," remarks the London Athenaeum, "that the acoustic properties of the new Grand Opera House in Paris cannot be fairly tested until the theatre is filled and the stage is covered with scenery, &c. All the trials by Mrs. Patti, Mrs. Nilsson, Miss Krauss and M. Faure, in the empty house, give no indication at all of how the sound will travel during the performance of opera. The outside and inside scaffolding of the theatre have been removed and the decorations of the interior are fast advancing to completion."
